India among top fintech hotspots: WEF

A NEW GLOBAL study on Wednesday listed India among the top fintech hotspots alongside the US and the UK.

The World Economic Forum study, released at its Annual Meeting of New Champions in China's Tianjin, also said the fintech sector growth is stabilising amid strengthening profitability and inclusion. The study revealed that fintech hotspots include the UK, India, the US, Singapore, Brazil and Indonesia, each of which headquartered over 10 firms and showcased a booming fintech sector.

Additionally, the top operating countries for fintech included the US, the UK, India, Singapore, the United Arab Emirates, Brazil, Colombia, Mexico, Indonesia, and Germany, the WEF said.

Despite post-pandemic moderation, the fintech sector continues to show strong, sustainable growth while reaching traditionally underserved groups, it said. —PTI

Imports of soyabean, dairy, chicken legs may hit small farmers

Farmer bodies flag concerns over tariff relief plan for US

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, June 25

AS THE FIRST tranche of the India-US trade deal is likely by July 9, several "sensitive" sectors of Indian agriculture have raised concerns over the potential adverse impact of the deal on small farmers if the country agrees to cut duties on agriculture products, as demanded by the US.

While the US is asking for duty cuts by India for soyabean, corn, apple and dairy products, India traditionally has resisted giving market access in these areas to protect the interest of small and marginal farmers.

In addition, the US is also seeking access for its genetically modified (GM) products, even though India has not yet allowed their imports. New Delhi hasn't granted approval for the commercial cultivation of any GM crops since the nod to the commercial cultivation of Bt cotton in 2002. Commercial cultivation of GM food crops continue to be banned in India.

However, in 2021, India had allowed the import of 1.2 million tonnes (MT) of GM soyabean for chicken feed on an exceptional basis due to high domestic prices.

Strongly opposing any move to import soyabean from the US,

OPPOSITION

■ US is asking for duty cuts by India for soyabean, corn, apple and dairy products, but India traditionally has resisted giving market access in these areas

■ US is also seeking access for its GM products, even though India has not yet allowed their imports

■ A Niti Aayog working paper recently suggested that India should allow soyabean oil imports from the US

■ Opposing any move to import soyabean from the US, the Soybean Processor Association of India said it would make domestic cultivation economically unviable the Soybean Processor Association of India (SOPA) said it would make domestic cultivation economically unviable. Imports from the US under lower tariffs would hurt domestic soybean producers given huge difference in cost of the production for the oilseed varieties between both the countries.

"At present, while soybean prices of the US origin was ruling around Rs 390/tonne (around Rs 35,000/tonne) against our minimum support price of Rs 620/tonne (Rs 528/tonne), which makes any proposal to import soyabean from US will have huge adverse impact on the domestic production," DN Pathak, executive director, SOPA, told FE.

There are around 6 million farmers who grow soyabean in the country, Pathak said exporting soyabean after extracting oil from imported seed as mooted by Niti Aayog is not economically viable as most of the 30 MT of crushing capacities are located in central India which would add transportation cost.

Earlier this month, a Niti Aayog working paper titled "Promoting India-US agricultural trade under the new US trade regime" suggested that India should allow soyabean oil imports from the US to reduce trade imbalance. This decision to allow the import of soyabean oil from the US would not hurt domestic production, as the country imports substantial quantities or around 58% of India's cooking oil consumption.

"For last five decades since the beginning of the operation in the 1970s, the government has been encouraging local production of milk and products which is the only livelihood option of millions of mostly small farmers which should not be tinkered with," R S Sodhi, president, Indian Dairy Association, told FE. Sodhi said that the dairy sector, which is the largest contributor to agri-GDP and engages over 80 million farmers, is functioning quite efficiently.

India, the biggest milk producer in the world since 1998, plans to protect in the industry through continuation with tariff and non-tariff barriers. Industry sources said there are no discussion at present about reducing import duties on dairy products—cheese and skimmed milk powder currently attract tariffs in the range of 30-60%. India has been the world's biggest milk producer since 1998 followed by the United States.

While stating there is growing anticipation of a short-term 'mini-deal' with the United States by July 9 and a full bilateral trade agreement by year-end, Shweta Saini, agricultural economist and CEO of Arcus Policy Research, said key issues like dairy, maize, soybean, and genetically modified (GM) imports remain unresolved. "India is rightly resisting pressure to open its markets," Saini said.

Horticulture output up 3.7% in 2024-25

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, June 25

INDIA'S PRODUCTION of horticulture crops is estimated to have increased by 3.66% to 367.72 million tonnes (MT) in 2024-25 crop year (July-June), according to the second advance estimates released by the Union agriculture ministry on Wednesday.

The output had fallen to 354.74 MT in 2023-24 crop year from 355.54 MT in the previous year, mainly due to 20% drop in onion production compared to previous year.

The horticulture crops production continues to be higher than the food grain production in absolute terms, though the growth rates in last two years were higher for the latter.

Output of rice, wheat, pulses and coarse cereals in 2024-25 crop year was estimated at a record 353.2 MT, an increase of 6% compared to previous crop year.

Area under horticulture crops rose to 29.2 million hectare (Mha) in 2024-25 against 29.08 Mha last year.

In 2024-25 crop year, while output of fruits including mango and banana, rose by 1.36% to 114.5 MT, the production of vegetables including onion, potato and tomato rose by 6% to 219.6 MT.

Delhi CM Rekha Gupta is guest at Adda today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, June 25

FOUR MONTHS AGO, Rekha Gupta was picked to lead the BJP government in Delhi, marking a return to power for the party after 27 years in the city. A three-time councillor and a first-time MLA, she is now the face of a government, that has promised to make Delhi the capital that India can be proud of.

On Thursday, the Chief Minister will be the guest at Express Adda in Delhi. No stranger to the city's politics, Gupta started out as a student leader with the ABVP in the early 1990s and went on to serve as president of the Delhi University Students' Union in 1996-97.

The Shalimar Bagh MLA entered the city's electoral politics in 2007, when she was elected as a councillor in the Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD). She made it to MCD House twice again before being chosen as Chief Minister.

In March, she announced several schemes as part of an ambitious budget estimate of Rs 1 lakh crore for the first time, big ticket announcements ranging from a clean

Delhi Chief Minister Rekha Gupta

Yamuna to pothole-free roads, and more recently, regulation on private schools.

Gupta's tenure so far has also seen an emphasis on improving road and health infrastructure, and on adopting Central schemes.

With emphasis on increased coordination with the Centre, she has met with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah as well as other Union ministers, especially on issues such as cleaning of the Yamuna, road infrastructure, food and order and health.

Within days of taking oath, Gupta and her ministers also cleared the decks for the adoption of the Ayushman Bharat insurance as well as the health infrastructure upgrade schemes. This was followed by the BJP wrestling its way back to power in the previous ruling party in Delhi, essentially giving the city a 'triple-engine' BJP government.

Among the challenges she faces in the months to come is balancing people's expectations and her government's development mantra, and delivering on promises such as Rs 2,500 aid for women and cleaning the Yamuna.

At Express Adda, Gupta will be in conversation with Varun Mishra, National Opinion Editor, The Indian Express.

Risk capital to fund innovation in pharma limited, says DCGI

MANU KAUSHIK
New Delhi, June 25

THE RISK CAPITAL, which is used to fund innovation in the pharma sector, is limited in India, said Rajeev Singh Raghuvanshi, Drug Controller General of India (DCGI).

Raghuvanshi was speaking at the FE Healthcare Summit & Awards 2025 on Wednesday.

Further, he said corporates need to step up their efforts to attract international investors to India. According to Raghuvanshi, in order to provide an enabling environment, the regulator's approach has shifted towards light-touch regulations, focusing more on efficiency in execution.

Raghuvanshi also said the domestic pharma industry needs to look beyond the generics space. Perceived as a "pharmacy of the world", India has primarily focused on the generics segment thus far by supplying close to 20% of the generic medicines globally (by volume). He also said domestic pharma firms have to move beyond being a volume player to a value player in innovation areas where the margins are high.

In a panel discussion titled 'Catalysing Next Wave of Growth: Primary Care to Personalised Cure', Satish Reddy, chairman, Dr Reddy's Laboratories, said the growth strategy of pharma firms like Dr Reddy's is to expand beyond generics. He cited two examples where his firm has ventured into different categories.

In April last year, for instance, Dr Reddy's formed a joint venture with Nestle India to bring innovative nutraceuticals brands to consumers in India and other agreed territories. The partnership was forged to bring together the well-known global range of nutritional health solutions as well as vitamins, minerals, herbs and supplements of Nestle Health Science backed with the strong and established commercial strengths of Dr Reddy's in India.

Net FDI inflows at 35-month high of $3.95 bn in April

SIDDHARTH UPASANI
New Delhi, June 25

INDIA RECEIVED net foreign direct investment (FDI) of $3.95 billion in April, the most in 35 months and more than double from a year ago, data released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Wednesday showed, while spending on foreign studies under the central bank's Liberalised Remittance Scheme (LRS) was down year-on-year for the ninth month in a row.

The surge in foreign investments in the first month of the current fiscal came after March had seen net outflows of $438 million, with six of the last nine months of 2024-25 seeing outflows on a net basis.

On a gross basis, FDI inflows in April stood at $8.80 billion—the highest in 39 months—and up 23% year-on-year.

Net FDI is calculated after adjusting for investments that are repatriated by foreign companies and overseas investments made by Indian companies.

March had seen net outflows of $438 mn, with 6 of the last 9 months of 2024-25 seeing outflows on a net basis

Investments in manufacturing and business services made up nearly half the gross FDI inflow figure in April, RBI economists said in the central bank's monthly State of the Economy article, also published Wednesday.

The increase in April followed a particularly difficult year for India, with 2024-25 seeing net FDI inflows of just $2.29 billion, down 77% from $10.13 billion in 2023-24.

According to RBI economists, the increase in repatriation in 2024-25 is a sign of a mature market where foreign investors can enter and exit smoothly.

On a gross basis, FDI inflows into India in 2024-25 were up 14% at $81.04 billion which RBI said was indicative of India remaining an attractive investment destination.
